

Our ambition

Our ambition is to offer our (potential) clients the best assistance ever in marine projects. We know better than anyone that reliable workboats are necessary to complete projects at sea successfully. To our opinion, a reliable vessel is not only appropriate for the scope of work, but also manned with a dedicated and experienced crew.

The combination of excellent staff and equipment, together with the aim to meet client requirements, leads to continuous good performance and therefore satisfied clients.

We are aware that our ambition also makes demands on our operations. Therefore, the following applies:

Our objectives

We feel responsible for people and the environment. We want to prevent personal injury, environmental and material damage at all times. The risks of all operations in which crew and environment are involved are identified and mitigated whenever possible. Our fleet and equipment are well maintained, and we provide for best practices for all possible operations. Our personnel is qualified and capable. Training ensures that both safety awareness and skills are improved continuously. Whether it is our own or hired personnel, a visitor, a contractor or a client representative: the safety of every individual is top priority. We offer a working environment in which we respect each other.

Our QHSE management system is of help in achieving our objectives. It ensures continuous improvement of our performance. This system also shows our (potential) clients that activities in our company take place in an efficient and controlled manner.

Management Team

Herman Senior